JULY FIRST TO BE GALA DAY IN BLAIRMORE

Everything points to a big day in Blaimore on July first. The programme is complete and copies are being circulated.

Added features since our last issue include several entries for the big 5-mile Jubilee race, with Jerome Platt, of Brant, Alberta, as one of the high-record performers. Others are Arthur Fournier, of Passburg, winner of the Pinkney cup for the past two years; Johnny Kerr, also of Passburg, holder of the record five-mile time—27.20—made four years ago; James and Charles Connors, of Bellevue, and possibly Harrington Anderson, of Calgary.

An attractive prize list will go a long way towards popularizing the Blaimore sports on Dominion Day.

In connection with the sports programme, dances will be held in the Columbus hall on both Friday and Saturday nights, and house-house and jingle boards will be operated.

See programme of events elsewhere in this issue.

NEPHEW OF HARRY BURNS IS DROWNING VICTIM

Three students of the Colorado school of mining are believed drowned at Lake Athabasca. The three lads, Robert Burns, of Nelson, B.C., Albert Comstock, of Bronville, N.Y., and Robert Weld, of Waterton, Conn., were canoeing. Parts of the canoe were found on the lake shore.

Burns was a nephew of Mr. Harry Burns, who left Blaimore for the scene of the tragedy upon receipt of the news.

Later reports state that one of the bodies has been recovered, believed to be that of Burns. If identified as such the body will be taken to Nelson for burial.

The boy's parents rushed to Lake Athabasca by aeroplane, returning to Nelson a few days later.

Mr. Harry Burns returned from the north on Monday, and with Mrs. Burns left yesterday by motor for Nelson.

JOHN EDDY AGAIN BEREAVED

David, only surviving son of John Eddy, and the late Mrs. Eddy, of Beaver Mines, passed away in hospital at Lethbridge on Wednesday, as a result of blood poisoning.

David had the misfortune but a few days previous to run a rusty nail in his foot. He was taken to Blaimore and Hillcrest for treatment, later being rushed to Lethbridge, where death occurred but a few hours after his arrival.

David was but sixteen years of age and is survived by one brother, Wilfred; three sisters, two of whom are married, and his father, sincerest sympathy with whom is extended. Harvey, the eldest brother, died four years ago, June, 1929, at the age of nineteen.

Funeral will take place from the Lundbreck church tomorrow (Friday) afternoon at 2 o'clock, the remains to be laid to rest in the Livingstone cemetery.

CRANBROOK PRIEST DROWNS

As we go to press we learn the sad news of the drowning yesterday, near Cranbrook, of Rev. Father McGuire, parish priest of Cranbrook.

The body has been recovered and will be laid to rest at Cranbrook tomorrow at 10 a.m.

BLAIRMORE PUBLIC LIBRARY

The Library hours are Tuesday, Thursdays and Saturdays from 7 to 9 p.m. The fees are $1.00 for residents and $2.00 for non-residents per year.

This marvelous special is shown in conjunction with "Cynara", with Ronald Colman and Kay Francis.

SLAVONIC SOCIETY IN CONVENTION HERE

The annual convention of the First Slavonic Benefit Society of Canada took place in the Columbus hall, Blaimore, on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, with a very large number of members and delegates present.

Following are the grand lodge of officials: president, John Lipnicka, Hillcrest; vice-president, Louis Bubuck, Coleman; recording secretary, Steve Losky, Coleman; financial secretary and treasurer, John Kubik, Blaimore; trustees, Joe Kubik, junior, and Mike Panik, Blaimore, and Tom Shiska, Coleman.

The following delegates were present: Tom Kubik, representing Blaimore and Hinton; Martin Margetak and Mike Petrik, Blaimore. George Klecken, representing Bellevue, Princeton and Wayne; Joe Kubasek and Peter Garek, Bellevue. John Panek and Mikulova Kontros, Hillcrest. Aloys Kalivoda and Ondro Harich, Coleman. John Madiak and Joe Cizmar, Natal.

Ondro Harich acted as convention chairman.

Many matters of importance were discussed during the three-day session, which concluded with a grand supper, concert programme and dance in the hall last night. The programme, staged mostly by the children, was of very high order and was much enjoyed by a large audience.

BILINSKY WINS TWO FALLS FROM DIETRICH

Quite a number of sport fans from here journeyed to Coleman on Friday night last to witness the big wrestling and boxing card, in which Mike Bilinsky, of Edmonton, won from Albert Dietrich, of Lethbridge, two straight falls out of three in seven rounds of a ten-round go. Dietrich was credited with the first fall in the second period. Preceding the big bout were two fast boxing preliminaries, in which Jimmie Stanmore, of Lethbridge, was awarded a draw against "Mushy" Callahan, of Calgary, in six rounds; and John Campbell won a technical knockout against Paul Turby, of Regina, in the last round of a four-round go.

At the conclusion of the two preliminaries, Jimmy Burrell, of Blaimore, issued a challenge to anyone whom Coleman should choose to meet him, while Axel Boyd, of Leduc, wired to challenge the winner of the Bilinsky-Dietrich wrestling contest.

The wrestling bout was refereed by Harry Johnson, of Calgary, while the boxers were held in check by Frank Baringham.

A Strange Assignment

Dr. O'Neil Returns From Africa Where He Exhibited For the Chicago Fair

Returning from what is perhaps one of the strangest assignments ever given to a man, Dr. O'Neil, of Chicago, arrived in Montreal on the Cunard liner "Aurania". Dr. O'Neil has been acting on behalf of the Chicago World Fair Authorities and has just completed a tour of Africa, returning from the Cape in search of interesting types of various tribesmen throughout the continent.

He has also collected a large number of exhibits of examples of their primitive art and workmanship. After some months of ceaseless travel in Africa, Dr. O'Neil has at last collected an interesting assortment of native and their characteristic work as has probably ever been got together for exhibition purposes. The collection of twenty-two natives together with the exhibition material are coming on the Cunard liner "Aurania". The natives are travelling in special third-class accommodation and are expected to arrive in their native Dominion where they will probably create something of a furore.

Dr. O'Neil is a medical practitioner, but in view of his previous experience as an explorer in Africa he was engaged by the Chicago World Fair to collect material for the exhibit on Africa. The effort was made somewhat belatedly. Dr. O'Neil explained in an interview on arrival, and he did not have enough time to make his collection of individuals complete. He found that the British Government and the Belgian Government whose rule extends over many sections of central Africa where are located the most interesting tribes, refused permission to allow natives to be used for exhibition purposes. There was no such objection, however, from the French Government. He found it was able to obtain a large variety of specimens of various types in the Cameroons, Portuguese Africa, and other sections in Central Africa.

Dr. O'Neil's original trip was to London, England, then to Cape Town, South Africa. After which he made the Imperial Airways trip direct to Paris, with the customary stops at places like Bulawayo and Nairobi, afterwards proceeding from Paris to Addis Ababa, capital of Abyssinia. Every facility was given him to obtain native works of art before he proceeded south through other regions.

The tallest passenger on the "Aurania" was certainly B. Greene, who is making his way to Canada. Mr. Greene is 8' 3" feet eight inches high and claims that he is the shortest member of a highly trained berth in his cabin, made for passengers of more modest dimensions. He is a member of the famous Hercules Hercules figure. Mr. Greene comes of a famous family of tall men and claims he can trace his ancestry back two or three centuries. Although born in Brazil, he served in the British army in India, Persia, Russia, and is now the owner of a garage in England.

Recipes For This Week

(By Betty Barclay)

HUNGARIAN CHOCOLATE

PROST (Using egg yolks)

2 squares unsweetened chocolate, cut in pieces.

1 1/2 tablespoons hot water.

1/2 cup confectioners' sugar.

2 egg yolks, well beaten.

1/2 cup butter, melted in cold water to remove salt.

Melt chocolate in double boiler, add hot water, and blend. Add sugar and egg yolks, and beat well. Remove from fire and allow mixture to stand over hot water 3 minutes or until slightly thickened, stirring constantly. Cool quickly to lukewarm.

Add butter, a tablespoon at a time, blending after each addition. Makes enough frosting to cover top and sides of 8 x 8 x 2-inch cake, or tops of two 2 1/2-inch layers.

Note: This is a small recipe. Double the recipe for enough frosting to spread between layers and on top and sides of three 9-inch layers.

HAM LOAF

6 hard boiled eggs.

2 cups cooked ham, chopped fine.

1 cup milk.

1 tablespoon flour.

1 tablespoon butter.

1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce.

1 teaspoon sugar.

1 teaspoon mixed mustard.

Salt and pepper.

Make a white sauce of the flour, butter and milk. Add seasonings. Arrange a layer of the sliced, hard boiled eggs in the bottom of a baking pan. Pour on a little of the sauce.

Add a layer of the ham. Cover with the sauce. Continue alternating layers until all is used. Cover top with well buttered bread crumbs. Bake thirty minutes in a moderate oven.

Trail Blazers

Bank of Montreal Open Branch At Port of Churchill

"Standing on Franklin's trail of 1819, and looking out over Hudson Bay, where the great explorer of that name died, we ask all our friends to raise their glasses and toast with us, the hardy trail blazers who first visioned Churchill harbor as a world port, and all those who followed to boost for the Hudson Bay Railway.

This was the tribute made by four present-day trail blazers of pioneer spirits, who made a pilgrimage to historic Churchill, and who see in the far north a new land of great wealth and opportunity for Canadians and for the world.

They were John Callaghan, general manager of the Northern Alberta Railway; W. A. Brown, retired general superintendent of the Canadian National Railway, now of Edmonton, and who in 1880 was conductor of Canadian Pacific Railway, operating into Winnipeg; John Blue, author of "History of Alberta" and other works, and at present secretary and manager of the board of trade; and Frank Pike, manager of the Bank of Montreal, Edmonton.

Among those who travelled the northbound "Muskeg" train of the summer schedule were Major J. G. MacLachlan, district engineer of the Hudson Bay Railway; and T. W. Todd, who will be manager of the Bank of Montreal at Churchill this summer. He was accompanied by H. L. McKay, who will work with him. The party were present at the official opening of the bank on June 19th.

Shingle Industry Revives

All Big Plants In Fraser Valley Working Full Time

The shingle industry on the Fraser River is booming with virtually all the big plants working double shifts, and employing approximately 1,000 men in the New Westminster district. Some plants have orders sufficient to keep them busy most of the summer. Prices have advanced sharply.

Shingle production in the lower Fraser Valley this year is expected to reach 1,200,000,000 pieces, of a value of $2,000,000 against 770,000,000 pieces in 1932. Increased shingle production means more activity in the woods.

An Amazing Machine

An amazing machine was demonstrated in Aberdeen, for filleting fish of any size. During the demonstration the machine took charge of a batch of small haddock, chopped off their heads, stripped off their fins, cleaned them, shaped them, and removed their bones without crushing or damaging them. It delivered them ready for smoking or packing at the rate of thirty fish per minute.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON JULY 2

SOME EARLY LEADERS OF ISRAEL—JOSHUA

Golden Text: "Be strong and of good courage." For Jehovah thy God is with thee whithersoever thou goest.—Joshua 1:9.

Lesson: Joshua, Chapters 1-6, 23, 24.

Devotional Reading: Psalm 119: 1-8.

Explanations and Comments

The Charge To Joshua, 1:1, 2.—Joshua had been the attendant of Moses. We hear about him in Ex. 17: 9-16; 14:9; 24:13; 22:17; 33:11; Numbers 11:28; 13:16; 14:6-9; 27:18; 31:7; 8: 34:11; Deuteronomy 1:38; 3:28; 34:9. As was one of the spies sent into Canaan from Kadesh some thirty-eight years before this, he must have been at least sixty years old when Moses died. He was a trained military leader, and the right man to lead the Israelites in their conquest of Canaan. When Moses was about to lay down his command he had appointed Joshua as his successor.

"Moses, my servant, is dead; now therefore arise, go over this Jordan, thou and all this people, into the land which I do give to them, even to the children of Israel"; thus Joshua heard the voice of God in his soul. It was a time, not for grief, but for action. The marble tablet in Westminster Abbey which bears the portraits of John and Charles Wesley has these words inscribed: "God buried the workers, but carries on the work."

He best honors his dead who arises and takes up his tasks with resolute heart, strong in the faith that God will not forsake him. "What we do in our bereavement is very momentous," declared Dr. H. H. Jowett. "We can sit down and mope in ever deepening melancholy, or we can take over our appointed work. I like the great, deep, loyal word of Ezekiel: 'At even my wife died; and I did in the morning. I was commanded.'"

The Help Promised, 1:5, 6, 9.—There shall not any man be able to stand before all the days of thy life; as I was with Moses, so I will be with thee; I will not fail thee nor forsake thee. These words must have come to Joshua in answer to his prayer for help in the great task before him; he was given faith to believe in the help on which Moses had relied would not fail him.

Be strong and of good courage. So Moses had exhorted Joshua, Deuteronomy 31:6, 7, and the reiteration of the words in this chapter has given rise to the suggestion that in the beginning Joshua's heart failed him. He was a brave soldier, but he had never before the full days of thy life; as I was with Moses, so I will be with thee; I will not fail thee nor forsake thee. These words must have come to Joshua in answer to his prayer for help in the great task before him; he was given faith to believe in the help on which Moses had relied would not fail him.

Machine Hands Out Dole

Officials Trying Device At London Labor Exchange

A machine which automatically pays out unemployment relief and insurance money is being used experimentally at the London labor exchanges, East Ham and Holloway. Instead of the exchange officials having to count out the money to each man, a button is pressed and the correct amount tumbles into a receptacle, and the man in the queue takes it himself.

A ministry of labor official said: "The machine is still in a very experimental state. We are waiting a few weeks to see how well it works before deciding if we will extend its use to other exchanges."

On the Alert

A recent report about high-jackers stealing coffins from an undertaking establishment reminds us of the story about the new night watchman in the big industrial plant who was asked by the foreman if everything was all right.

"Yep," said the watchman. "I ain't done so bad for the first night. I've checked everything and there's only one thing missing."

"What's that?" asked the foreman.

"A steam roller," replied the watchman.

Necessary Devices

Under-sea stairways, mammoth "grabs," soap tubes, sand-sucking fire hose, fire hose, and other marine telephones, and "reveler" boots which enable men to walk on the sea floor are some of the devices used in salvaging of ships from the sea.

A startling marked in July, 1931, on Melum, a North Sea island off Germany, has just been found in Ireland.

Millions Of U. S. Tourists

Over Thirty-Two Millions Crossed International Boundary In 1932

A total of 32,883,619 persons crossed the international boundary between Canada and the United States in 1932, of whom 23,165,782 travelled by bridge, ferry and tunnel; 1,532,000 were motorists crossing on highways and 2,185,837 were railway passengers. The horse-drawn vehicle has practically passed out of the picture, as far as international traffic is concerned, for last year only 64 were reported as crossing from Canada to the United States and vice versa.

Included in the total of 32,883,619 persons who crossed the international boundary were 14,000,000 tourists from the United States who visited Canada for periods ranging from one day to six months.

The heaviest traffic between the two countries is between Windsor, Ontario, and Detroit, Michigan, and Walkerville, Ontario, and Detroit, where two ferries are operated across the Detroit River in addition to one bridge and a tunnel for pedestrians and vehicles; a railway tunnel and three systems of railway ferries also cross at this point. Traffic is also heavy at all times of the year across the Peace Bridge over the Niagara River at Fort Erie, Ontario, and at Niagara Falls and Queenston, Ont.

The boundary between Canada and the United States extends over 5,000 miles of which 3,100 miles are land boundary and 2,400 miles are water boundary.

British Post Office Receives Odd Requests

People Write About All Sorts Of Queer Things

All sorts of people write to the British post office on all sorts of topics.

One woman asked for a new savings bank book because her old one had been taken from her pocket—and eaten by an elephant.

A native of India sought some information, and ended his letter with, "I should be glad you a king and emperor."

Then a messenger-boy who had left after three years' service with a "reference," wrote complaining that, while he knew he was unpunctual and had "squashed" letters, the postmaster had not filled in the dotted line next to the word "character."

One depositor was officially written to because his signature had changed. He replied that it was "no longer my own signature. I signed the original. The files now slide over the space where once waved my golden tresses."

"My pearls teeth have also departed long since."

"I will agree with Shakespeare's 'Change and decay in all around I see.'"

Deaf Children Hear

Microphone That Makes Use Of Light and Sound Waves

A classroom in the School for the Deaf at Saskatoon is fitted with equipment enabling children to hear the voice of their teacher, and even their own voices, previously inaudible to them. It is a microphone hook-up, making use of light and sound waves, designed by Sigurd Sanda, of Saskatoon, who says there is an enormous field for research in this direction.

The microphone is fitted with an amplifier and pupils wear headphones.

Trick Spelling Test

No one seems to know who started this latest fad, but "Spelling Tests" are becoming a popular pastime. Four errors were made by a Toronto member of one of the learned professions when asked to spell the words in the following sentence: "A harassed pedlar met an embarrassed saddler near a cemetery, to measure the symmetry of a lady's ankle." Of a dozen or more others "tested," only one was 10 per cent correct.

A Venerable Carp

A venerable carp named Polo, living in the largest pool at the Palace of Fontainebleau, near Paris, is dead. He was well known to visitors to the park. He was recognizable by a large gold ring which had been put through its nose. The guides state that this ring bore the inscription, "Napoleon, Emperor," and that this carp was placed in the pond in 1814, shortly before Napoleon was exiled to Elba.

Foreign trade of the Soviet Republics in the first three months of this year was 97 per cent. less than in the same period of 1932.

She held his hand a moment in her warm clasp, thinking of her father lying dead at Resolution, of Alan's noble struggle to save him, of Haskell breaking his father's will to live. It was some solace to know that she had helped Alan plan a trap for the guilty inspector, a deadly trap if Haskell only walked into it.

As she quietly wished him good luck, in her heart she was fervently saying to him: "God go with you, Alan." And because she had passionately resolved not to see him again before she left, she meant her words not only for the stormy hour ahead of him, but for all the years of his life.

Alan strode into the cabin in a savage fighting mood. He had risen from a sick bed to come to Edinburgh because Williamson left, and he had sworn he was going to crush Haskell.

The inspector had forced him out of the Mounted; had caused Larry to be crippled for life; had refused protection to Joyce in her desperate need; had made a scapegoat of Dave MacMillan to save his face; and more than anyone on earth he was responsible for that sorry tragedy at Resolution.

Almost the only hope Alan had was that trap which he and Joyce had planned—an idea born in Joyce's quick brain and developed between them during the three days she had nursed him.

When he went in, he found Williamson and Haskell sitting at the desk, waiting. Haskell did not move; but Williamson, considerate of his wounds, drew up a chair and invited him to sit down.

"Won't you give us the story of your patrol, Baker?" he requested kindly.

Alan countered: "My story doesn't begin with this patrol. It begins last fall, when this gentleman here came down north. I want to tell it here, from then till now."

"That's your right," Williamson assented.

Alan hoped that his story, by the sheer blunt truth of it, would carry conviction. But when he finished, the old officer did not comment. The silence was foreboding. Almost in desperation, Alan took up a couple of matters that lay very near his heart.

"There's two or three favors I want to ask of you, sir. Since they're not in my own behalf, you may agree to them. One is about Chink Woolley, the man we brought in. I want to put in a word for him. He deserves heavy punishment but he shouldn't be hanged. He gave us some priceless information. We might never have saved Joyce MacMillan if he hadn't. It's impossible for me to be present at his trial. I want to turn over to you an affidavit in his behalf. Then, about Featherfoot, my partner in this patrol. He stole some government property and broke some flying regulations. But he made the whole thing possible, he threw in with me without a thought of pay, he risked his life half a dozen times. We're in position to restore that property or else pay for it in full. Will you get Featherfoot out of this jam?"

"How about yourself, Baker?" "Well, I don't want to be jailed, if I can help it. But I suppose your favors will stretch just so far. I was the instigator, and if anybody has to pay, I'm the one."

Williamson was thoughtful. Few times in his career had he ever allowed motive, however worthy, to be excuse for breaking the law. But as he glanced at Baker, wounded, maimed in one hand, still pale from loss of blood, he thought what a heartless travesty of justice it would be if Baker were imprisoned. What, ever the truth of his trouble with Haskell, the great fact remained that he had gone on a thankless, prodigious patrol and had run those criminals to earth.

"I'll do what I can for you both," he promised, with no reluctance. "When I go back outside, I'll talk to the Edmonton officials and try to get those charges non-prossed. But you and Featherfoot see to restoring that property."

Alan promised: "We won't fail you on that. It's mighty fine and square of you." After a moment, he went on: "Considering all you've agreed to, I hate to ask still another favor. But I've got to. I've got to speak up for Haskell and Pedneault. They have charges against them, serious and true charges. But there's this to be said, sir. Neither man deserted. They both intended to return here the moment our patrol ended. They rendered a tremendous service to the Force. They were true to duty in the highest sense of the word. Are you going to look at the good they did, or at nothing but the bad?"

Williamson did not answer. He felt the human justice of Alan's appeal. It seemed to him that the matter went deeper than a question of insubordination. Those men had been under Baker's sway, and he knew what a powerful influence Baker had over his men.

Thinking deeply, he gazed through the window, down upon the dark river. In this tangled affair, it was a sore task to judge wisely, to do the right thing. Baker's long patrol, his indomitable courage in going after these men, his relentless drive in hammering his daring patrol through to success—the whole thing was a splendid feat. In his forty years the old officer had never seen a more magnificent piece of work. It was like Baker, like the brilliant sergeant who he once had trusted and fought for.

But the rest of that story, his trouble with Haskell—Williamson did not accept that as true. From start to finish Baker's account was an utter conflict with Haskell's; and to the stern old officer, judging with impartial mind, Haskell's story seemed more credible. Quite plainly Baker had harbored a personal hostility which probably had warped and twisted his story out of all semblance to the truth.

One thing Williamson did know beyond any doubting: Baker's account did not accept that as true. We've had to pay, too, for the inspector's acts. Here's one of us implicated for his life, because the inspector hog-tied us on that patrol with some foot orders. After a thing like that, do we have to shut up and take it and not even be allowed to—"

"Sit down!" Williamson bade them. "I'm going to get to the bottom of this. When your time comes I'll hear what you've got to say. Now Baker, I want you to answer some questions. What made you split your detail on that first patrol?"

"Haskell ordered me to, sir. He ordered me to follow both branches. When I objected, he threatened to bust me and keep me here at the post."

"That's a lie!" Haskell challenged. "I allowed him to do as he thought best. He purposely made a failure of that patrol. I don't ask you to take my word. Corporal Whipple was here in the cabin, and heard our talk. And Baker, over his signed statement, admitted to responsibility."

"What proof have you got, Baker?" Williamson demanded.

Alan kept silent, deliberately allowing his silence to damn him. Williamson's probe was leading in the right direction, leading toward that deadly trap.

To Alan's consternation Bill Hardcock burst out: "Proof? H—It's blue blazes! Alan was half sick, all the way up the Aloska, because of them orders. He felt he was being forced to take us men into a terrible danger. We all knew it was crazy—to split up—"

Williamson silenced him. "You're merely making an assertion, corporal. You have no proof. Baker, do you admit responsibility for that patrol?"

Alan shook his head. "No, I—I don't," he stammered.

Haskell smiled. He had Baker for the run.

Williamson reminded: "Baker, you signed a statement of responsibility. Whipple was a witness."

Alan pleaded: "Sir, that statement—"

"When we came back—yes, I signed it. But I—I had to."

"You had to?"

"Yes, to get out of the Mounted. He wouldn't let me buy out unless I did sign."

"Why under heaven did you need to buy out that fast and furious?"

"I wanted to be free," Alan led on step by cautious step. "I wanted to go after those men."

"Baker, look here," Williamson said sternly. "You infer you wanted to go after those men so badly that you were willing to buy out, cut off your record and sign a lie. Why then wouldn't you co-operate with Haskell to get them?"

"Well, sir, he—he wouldn't co-operate."

"I can't believe that. He tried to help you ever afterward—after you bought out and were on a private venture."

"When was that?" Alan queried.

"At En Travers Lake."

Effect Of Depression

Not Very Nothing To the Nervous In the Opinion Of Some
A New York doctor says the depression saved the world from a nervous breakdown. We were travelling too fast, he thinks, financially and otherwise, and could not have stood the strain. In proof he submits that the mental hospitals filled up during the boom years. He expects fewer patients in years to come.

Authority is always to be respected and questioned with due reserve. Yet one would like the expert to explain the suicide epidemic that has swept the continent in the last three years. People do not take their own lives when they are in a state of tranquility.

The doctor doubtless knows whereof he speaks when he says the boom years were hard on the nerves. He is on questionable ground when he suggests the depression has ushered us into less distracting conditions. The fact, as recorded in the daily record of self-inflicted tragedy, seem to point in the other direction.

The jig-saw puzzle has given way to the pastime of hunting among the debris of deflation for compensatory blessings. Unless it is a blessing that life is less attractive than it was, nobody has yet found them.

Gay Colors For Bridges

Structures Of Future Will Be Artistic and Colorful
Bridges of the future will excel anything yet known in beauty and size, single length and dull bridge paints of forbidding battlement gray will give way to gay, bright colors, Dr. D. B. Steinman, New York consulting engineer, redicted in an address at Pittsburgh.

"New metals are being tried," he said. "Aluminum will be more extensively employed in future bridge erection. Bright paints of dull black and cold, forbidding battlement gray will give way to colors—soft bluish greens to match the landscape, relieved by bright stainless steel. New lines will express the functions of stress-bearing parts. The old cross-bracing principles are being eliminated."

Steps To Delinquency

Seven Stages Are Set Forth By Probation Officer
John J. Smith, chief probation officer of Middlesex County Superior Court, Massachusetts, lists seven steps in the development of the average youthful delinquent's career. The steps are:

- 1.—Develops inferiority complex at school because teacher fails to sense his problems as subnormal child.
- 2.—Becomes truant and associates with "bad companions."
- 3.—Takes to petty pilfering.
- 4.—Begins breaking and entering.
- 5.—Steals automobiles.
- 6.—Becomes racketeer, or boot-legger, and carries gun.
- 7.—Turns to major crimes, such as holdups.

YOUR LIVER'S MAKING
YOU FEEL OUT OF SORTS

Wake up your Liver Bile

—No Calomel needed

When you feel that depressed, sour on the tongue, and that you are not getting any sleep, it is likely due to a sluggish liver. It is the liver that makes the bile which is necessary for the digestion of food. If the liver is sluggish, the bile is not made properly, and the food is not digested. This causes a number of symptoms, such as indigestion, constipation, and a general feeling of uneasiness. The only way to get the liver back to work is to use a reliable liver medicine. Little Liver Bile is the best one. It is a pure vegetable preparation and it works gently and safely. It is the only liver medicine that is recommended by the medical profession.

More Than Exercise

Lazurly Walk Will Do Much Toward Clearing Brain

Walking is one of the best possible exercises. The good effects of a walk early mornings, when you are fresh, is more than mental. English people understand the value of walking. Americans have always been too hurried. Walking, without rushing, gives all your body a chance to relax and exercise. Circulation improves. So do digestion and appetite. And the good, fresh air you get into your lungs is a reservoir of strength against the day's work and worry. If you can force the daily habit of both a morning and a night "turn" around a few blocks, you are building up an escape from all kinds of trouble for yourself. You'll find you can "walk out" your perplexing problems.

WORLD'S GRAIN EXHIBITION AND CONFERENCE

Presenting a never ending show, a ceaseless panorama of education and entertainment, Regina's World's Grain Exhibition and Conference, will open at Regina on July 24 next and continue until August 5.

The educational and inspirational dividends from the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference have been the foremost considerations in the minds of the members of the committees who conceived and developed the undertaking, but the recreational and entertainment sections have also been given the most careful thought with the result that patrons will be presented with 14 days and 14 nights of carnival and gorgeous spectacle.

There will be ten miles of things to see, and 110,000 beautiful and interesting exhibits in the 90 acres of grounds at this world event. The greatest artists on the North American continent and from Europe have been booked to give delight to all who attend.

Among the many attractions to be presented will be "The Bird of Paradise," a mammoth revue, a swift, melodic panorama of sure-fire hit songs and dances. The dances include the tap, character, ballroom and specialties. The revue is beautifully costumed, the dresses being designed by M. Padigroy, designer for the Folies Berges, Paris, and staged with magnificent effect. It introduces into its musical score songs that will charn both young and old. The revue music will be interpreted by the Tavani Symphonic Band of 50 artists.

A further treat for music lovers is the spectacular opera "Aida." This operatic masterpiece has been a favorite in all the world's capitals and is being brought to Regina with singers of world renown in the leading roles, supported by a marvellous chorus.

"The Night Hawks," who have delighted radio audiences with their songs, are also billed to appear in Regina during the two weeks of the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference, while the Japanese Acrobats, with their daring, death-defying feats of physical perfection will add thrills to a splendid programme of platform attractions.

Western Canada's greatest live stock exhibition, with entries from all over the North American continent, will give pleasure to all farmers, as will the educational exhibits in the World's Grain Exhibition where the products of practically every nation will be on view.

In the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference building the most marvellous display of educational exhibits have been set up for the education and pleasure of the visitor. These exhibits covering a two-mile frontage will take visitors a whole day to see them thoroughly. They include a replica of the Prince of Wales' Ranch in Alberta, a diorama showing the natural resources of Canada and their location, exhibits from Quebec, Ontario, Manitoba, Alberta, British Columbia and Saskatchewan and hundreds of other interesting spectacles. The decorations of the building achieved from grains and grasses grown in Saskatchewan, are so beautiful that visitors to the building marvel.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the Hillcrest hotel, when a number of invited guests were present.

At a meeting of the Board of Education last week, it was decided that all contracts with teachers in the Hanna schools be terminated as of June 30th. The discussion surrounding salaries resulted in a further cut of five per cent, making a total reduction of 24 per cent within the past two years. New agreements will be called for as usual, early in July, and it is expected that no change in staff will take place. It is reported that Miss Janet Cook of the High School staff will shortly return and belief is held that Miss Cook will re-engage with the local staff after having spent the past year studying in France.

This is the story of a prudent man, as told by a Kansas newspaper: He brushed his teeth twice a day, wore rubbers in wet weather, did his daily, dozens, slept with windows open, was careful with his diet, had a medical examination twice a year, never smoked, drank, or indulged in any kind of excess. He was all set to live to be 100 years old. The funeral was held last Wednesday. He is survived by eighteen specialists, four health institutes, six gymnasiums and numerous manufacturers of health foods and antiseptics. He had forgotten to look out for a train at a grade crossing.

The very best of food stuffs is provided and handled by an experienced chef, formerly employed by the C.P.R. and the Comopolitan hotel in Blairmore. All kinds of decent literature, magazines, newspapers, etc., is provided for the men by the government and news bureaus. Recreation grounds are being arranged by the men themselves, when the hours after work are spent in various games and athletics. The idea of classing them as slaves is simply laughed at.

COWLEY HAPPENINGS

The Cowley school closes Friday for the summer holidays.

Mrs. M. Massonave, who has been on the sick list, is now able to be around again.

There was a large attendance from the Cowley district to Cole's theatre at Bellevue, when the play "Cavalade" was staged last week end.

Mrs. Robert Littleton entertained at bridge on Tuesday afternoon, in aid of the Anglican church funds, the prize being won by Mrs. George Penn. After cards, a dainty luncheon was served by the hostess. Several ladies from Lundbreck were present, and a very pleasant time was spent.

Harold G. Turner is paying a visit to his old home at Cardiff, Wales.

After farming in the Cowley district for the past few years, Mr. Fricberger is moving his family to the Peace River country. They intend locating two hundred miles northwest of Edmonton, where they will engage in ranching and mixed farming.

Showers of rain, which fell over the district on Wednesday, were very much welcomed. The hay crop here will be very light, owing to drought of the past several weeks. All grain crops have suffered severely for want of moisture. Aside from the dry spell, considerable damage has been done by cutworms, grasshoppers and other pests, to growing crops, gardens and trees.

INTERESTING DOCUMENT DISCOVERED

Moncton, N.B., June 26.-A rather interesting and historical document was found here recently in the shape of the original of a treaty made between the British and the Indians at Casco Bay, near the present Fal mouth, Maine, in 1727. The upper portion is missing but some of the text and the signature are intact. The treaty was an agreement on the part of the Indians with the British forces to keep the peace and to make war on any tribe who should break it. The British agreed to send a force commanded by a general officer to the assistance of the signatory tribes should they be attacked by other Indians. The treaty followed in the wake of the defeat by the British of several Indian tribes and their submission is testified to in the treaty, which is dated July 25, 1727. Some of the Indians were able to sign their names, but the majority made their marks in the shape of their totem sign.

In a league game here last night, the Blairmore footballers took defeat, 3-1, from Coal Creek.

SIX POINT PROGRAMME FOR WORLD WOES

Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald and President Roosevelt, at their conference in Washington, lined up a world recovery programme under six headings:

An exchange remarks: If the lamb tried to follow Mary now, wouldn't it be sleepy in the morning.

Maggie says that "pants" are singular above the waist, and plural below.

An increase in the general level of commodity prices.

Re-orientation of commercial policies.

Improvement of the status of silver.

Their conversations "showed that our two governments were looking with a like purpose and a close similarity of method" at these objectives.

Who Owns Canada?

The question which appears as the heading of this article was included in examination papers recently submitted to pupils in Montreal schools coming under the jurisdiction of the Catholic School Commission of that city. Answers to the question revealed such vague and uncertain knowledge regarding the status of the Dominion that the Commission applied to the Secretary of State at Ottawa for an authoritative definition of Canada's status within the British Commonwealth of Nations, and among the world of nations.

The answer, given over the signature of Hon. C. H. Cahan, Secretary of State, defines Canada as a self-governing state of the British Commonwealth of Nations. It sets forth that Great Britain does not own Canada any more than Canada owns Great Britain; that Canada and Great Britain are each independent members of the British Commonwealth, and that the Dominion belongs to the people of the Dominion.

This answer should set at rest a large amount of uncertainty among Canadians regarding the official status of the land of their birth. It was evident from the answers submitted in the school examinations at Montreal that the subject had not been sufficiently emphasized by the teachers, and the secretary of the Catholic School Commission has stated that in future more attention will be paid to it. It would be well if this was done, not only in the Catholic schools of Montreal, but in all schools throughout the Dominion.

Canada is today an absolutely free and independent nation—just as much so as any other nation in the world. The King of Canada is George V. He is also King of Great Britain, King of Australia, Emperor of India. In Canada, the King is represented by the Governor-General, who is appointed by the King on the advice of the Government of Canada. At one time the Governor-General was appointed on the advice of the Government of Great Britain, and he represented that Government, as well as the King, in Canada. But not now—he represents the Crown only, while the British Government is represented in Canada by a Commissioner in the same manner as the United States, France and Japan are represented by Ministers, and Canada is represented in Great Britain by a Commissioner just as other countries are represented there by Ambassadors and Ministers.

The term and status of "Commissioner" is employed between two Dominions of the British Commonwealth because each have a common sovereign and such a sovereign does not send an Ambassador or Minister to represent him to himself as he does to represent him to other sovereign nations. The Crown being represented in the person of the Governor-General, the King's several governments are represented to the other by Commissioners.

The question may be asked: If Canada is an independent, fully self-governing Dominion of the British Commonwealth of Nations, why does it not enjoy the power to amend its own constitution, and why are appeals taken from decisions of the Supreme Court of Canada to the Privy Council in Great Britain? Other nations, it may be urged, have power to amend their own constitutions, and their Supreme Courts are final courts of appeal.

The answer is, that Canada can exercise both these powers whenever the people of Canada desire to do so, and probably the time will come when they will so decide. Up to the present, however, Canada has preferred to retain to itself the right of carrying judicial appeals to the impartial tribunal of the Privy Council, especially in all matters in dispute between the Federal and Provincial Governments. There is no compulsion that it should do so, and it can refrain from so doing, or can abrogate that right should it deem it wise to do so.

So, too, in regard to amendments to the Canadian constitution. The B.N.A. Act creates a confederation of Provinces, reserving to the Dominion certain exclusive powers on the one hand and certain other exclusive powers to the Provinces on the other hand, while in regard to some matters jurisdiction was divided between the two authorities. The Provinces, therefore, have as much right as the Dominion itself to say when and how the constitution shall be amended, and up to the present time certain of the Provinces have preferred to leave the matter as it was at the time of Confederation, with the British Parliament making such amendments to the constitution of Canada as the Parliament of Canada, with the consent of the Provinces, may request. But Canada can secure full and final control over its own constitution if and when the people so desire.

So, the complete and final answer to the question: "Who Owns Canada?" brings us back to the definition given by the Secretary of State at Ottawa—The Dominion belongs to the people of the Dominion. They are masters of their own national destiny. Nobody can tax them but themselves; they pay tribute to no other nation. Canada can make its own treaties with other nations irrespective of the effect such treaties may have upon other Dominions of the British Commonwealth.

But, because the Dominion belongs solely to the people of the Dominion, the great responsibility rests upon them as citizens of a sovereign nation among the nations, with absolute equality in the League of Nations, to so govern themselves, and to so conduct their national and international relationships, as to command the respect of and wield a great influence for good in the world. There should be no spirit of a narrow nationalism in Canada; quite the reverse.

Mayors Are Youthful

The new mayor of Detroit is 31 years old and everyone is commenting on the fact that he is extremely youthful to be assuming such a heavy responsibility. We should like to point out that the mayor of Windsor is but 33 years old and that he is now well into his second term. He was 30 when he took on the job and, furthermore, he had had no aldermanic experience.—Border Cities Star.

Depression Does Not Seem To Affect Demand For Toilet Preparations
It is evident from the study of the recently issued preliminary report on the production of chemicals and allied products in Canada in 1932 that the depression has practically no effect on the demand for toilet preparations. In 1928 the selling value of these preparations at the plants where they were made was $4,618,291. In 1931 the value of the output had risen to $5,946,292 and in 1932 it was $5,073,134.

The demand for medicinal and pharmaceutical preparations continues on the upgrade. In 1928 the combined value of these products made in Canada was $17,224,351 and in 1932 it was $18,145,573, the high mark of $19,038,894 being reached in the memorable year of 1929 when for several months prices of every commodity were at their highest point.

The chemical and allied products industry in Canada is a substantial one. Last year the aggregate production had a value of $95,540,340. It is divided into 14 groups and there are 628 factories, most of which are in the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec. The 14 groups are as follows: oil; tar distillation; acids, alkalis and salts; compressed gases; paints, pigments and varnishes; soaps and washing compounds; medicinal and pharmaceutical preparations; toilet preparations; fertilizers; wood distillation; insecticides; solvents and dressings; flavouring extracts, and miscellaneous chemical industries.

Imports into Canada under the classification of chemicals and allied products were valued in 1932 at $27,661,580. About 62 per cent of $17,275,101 was purchased from United States and 17 per cent, or $4,719,074 from the British Isles. Exports from Canada increased slightly in 1932, the total value being $11,033,178 as compared with $10,848,946 in 1931. United States, United Kingdom, Mexico, Portugal, Africa, Newfoundland, Hawaii, Australia, British India, Netherlands, Cuba and China in the order named were the main purchasers of Canadian chemicals and chemical products.

Membership Shows Decrease

Quakers Are Having Controversy Over Members By Birthright
Membership of the Society of Friends—the Quakers—shows a slight decrease in Great Britain during the last 12 months. There are now 19,119 registered members compared with 19,218 in the peak year of 1916.

The Society of Friends is one of the few religious bodies into which a child is accepted at birth, without either baptism or, at a later date, confirmation or confession of faith. This "birthright membership" recently has been seriously criticized, and it is now possible for Quaker parents to delay the acceptance into membership of their children until the young people are of an age to decide theological matters for themselves.

Last year the society accepted by conviction 218 new members, 47 fewer than in 1931, while 130 infants either resigned or were declared disassociated. There were registered 89 "birthright" members and 50 minors; but 318 Friends were lost to the society by death.

More Freight Moving

Transportation Situation Shows Signs Of Improvement

The transportation situation in Canada is showing considerable improvement and reflects the increasing confidence of the buying public and improving internal and external commerce, said a bulletin issued by the Department of Trade and Commerce. Carloadings for the week ending June 10 numbered 40,842 cars, an increase of nearly 2,000 cars over the preceding week and representing the largest movement of freight in 54 weeks.

"Movement of merchandise freight, representing as it does the shipments from manufacturers to wholesalers and wholesalers to retailers showed a marked improvement," said the bulletin. "Movement of merchandise by railroad has climbed up to nearly three-quarters of normal while that via canal boats in May was approximately double that of the corresponding month last year. Iron ore passing through the Sault Ste. Marie Canal was heavier by over eight per cent and bituminous coal was practically double that of May, 1932.

HAD RHEUMATISM FOR 20 YEARS

But None Since 1930

This man must have something like a record for suffering. He says: "Since 1910 up to 1930—that is 20 years—I have been a great sufferer with rheumatism. I am pleased to say that since 1930 up to date, I have been free from that dreadful pain, simply by taking Kruschen Salts—and nothing else. I must say that 20 years is a long time to have that awful rheumatic pain about one."—W. F.

Your rheumatism is just like his and everyone else's. It is caused by sharp-edged uric acid crystals getting into your joints. Kruschen will dissolve those crystals away. Furthermore—if you keep your "little daily dose" over afterwards, it will never be possible for them to form again. Rheumatism will be gone for good.

New York People Have Money For Extravagant Notions

Late one night the state of St. Hubert Airport, near Montreal, had word that an airplane was coming in, and they turned on the beacons and lights.

At 12:30 midnight the plane arrived from Roosevelt Field, New York. There alighted two men and a woman, in evening clothes. A taxicab was in waiting, and it hurried them away to Montreal.

Just before four o'clock the party returned, boarded the plane, and were back in New York for an early breakfast.

Thus between sunset and morning these people travelled to Montreal, had three hours in that city, flew home in time for work. The cost of the outing was about $500. If the incident has a moral perhaps it is that New York still has money for extravagant notions—and that the new beer has not destroyed the strong attraction of Montreal for its wealthy neighbors.—Ottawa Journal.

New Treatment Of Diseases Of Children Is Reported

New developments in treatment of two diseases of children, scarlet fever and whooping cough, were reported to the American Medical Association.

There is hope that it will be possible to immunize infants against whooping cough just as they are protected from diphtheria, by treating them with a vaccine, said Dr. Louis W. Hunter, of Evanston, Ill.

Tests showed, he said, that not one of the children he vaccinated contracted the disease.

Use of anti-toxin in cases of scarlet fever has been definitely shown to reduce severity of the disease and its duration, for complications. Dr. Luke W. Hunt, of McCormick Institute for Infectious Diseases, Chicago, reported, summarizing study of more than 2,000 cases.

The anti-toxin should be given within the first day or two after the patient becomes ill with scarlet fever, he said.

Smashing the Atom

Powerful Hammer Devised By Scientists Accomplishes Feat

The most powerful hammer yet devised for smashing the centres, or cores, of atoms, which are believed to hold the secret of how all matter is built, was described before the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

This atom-smashing hammer is the deuterium, the infinitely small but enormously powerful core of the heavier of the two atoms of hydrogen which is fired like a bullet into the cores of atoms that are to be smashed. Latest results of its use were reported by Drs. Gilbert N. Lewis, M. Stanley Livingston and Ernest O. Lawrence of the University of California.

Removed Half Of Brain

Removal of almost all of the right half of a woman's brain with no noticeable effect on her mentality and only partial paralysis on the left side was reported to the American Medical Association. Twenty months after the operation, Dr. Gardner said, "examination disclosed no change in intellect."

The Irish Free State expects many visitors from America this summer.

Permanent Exhibition Planned For London

Alexandra Palace May Be Turned Into Amusement Place

There is a prospect of London being endowed with a permanent "Wembley Exhibition." The Alexandra Palace, on the northern heights of London, Eng., which has long been the despair of all concerned with it, has been taken in hand by no fewer than 18 local authorities, who have recommended grants for its modernization which will amount to $1,000,000. It is proposed the Palace shall be so renovated as to convert it into a first-rate place of exhibition and general amusement.

The history of the Alexandra Palace is a dreary one. It was opened exactly 60 years ago as a northern rival of the Crystal Palace, which stands on the southern hills bordering London. A fortnight after its opening it was burned out. Shortly after it had been rebuilt it was compelled to close owing to lack of funds, and remained closed for nine years.

For 30 years following, it had a few bursts of enterprise. At length money was subscribed to save the park from falling to the speculative house builder. The park, which extends to almost 200 acres, was a valuable acquisition, but nobody ever has been able to do anything effective with the great sprawling palace itself. During the war it made itself useful, first as a harbor for Belgian refugees, and later for German prisoners.

The only good thing in the Palace was the great organ. This was the masterpiece of "Father" Henry Willis. Music-lovers of North London a few years back contrived to find the money to make the organ as good as new, and week-end concerts at the palace have been popular.

Social Progress

Must Keep Pace With Scientific Advance, Says Hon. R. J. Manion

Social progress must keep pace with scientific advance in order to bring about an equitable distribution of the world's products, Hon. R. J. Manion, Minister of Railways and Canals, told the Canadian Electrical Association at their annual banquet at Lucerne-in-Quebec.

Dr. Manion urged that not only public men but business men, and scientists give serious thought to bringing about social reforms that would enable a greater number of the people to share the benefits of what they produce.

The minister made electrical development the theme of his address but touched also on the problems of the day and the world economic conference. It was inconceivable, he said, that the conference would fail to achieve its end. If there should be difficulties between the European nations and United States, Canada would be in an excellent position to act as an intermediary, Dr. Manion said, but he did not anticipate any such difficulties would arise.

He expressed the belief that the vast majority of people in Canada were opposed to the export of electrical power, not only because it was a direct loss to industrial possibilities in the Dominion, but because of the great difficulty in shutting off power from a friendly country once committed had been built up in the power exporting area.

Cypress Hills Park

Highest Elevation Of Any Part Of Saskatchewan

Cypress Hills Park, known as the Highlands of Saskatchewan, will be officially opened this year. This park is 20 miles south of Maple Creek and has the highest elevation of any part of the Province of Saskatchewan. Some of the streams in the park flow south to find the Missouri River and some flow north to join the Saskatchewan River and then on to Hudson Bay. The main park is 4,500 feet above sea level and part of it is even higher than Banff. The famous mountain resort in Alberta. New buildings in the park include one lodge with 18 large rooms and a number of log cabins.

Ingenuous Excuse For Speeding

Thought Fire Engine Was Coming

The excuses proffered by our young women motorists when caught speeding are curiously lame and hackneyed. A correspondent of the Manchester Guardian.

"Why not emulate a girl friend over in San Francisco, who declared, truthfully radiating from her big blue eyes, that she thought a fire engine was behind her, and that it was up to her to hurry to get out of the way. She was chased by motorcycle policemen, and did not stop until two shots had been fired by them. Why are not our own traffic police encouraged by 'the Yard' to tackle their job in this modern and virile way? At least a machine-gun might be stationed at busy spots along bypass roads during summer weekends to increase respect for the law, even if it were to fire only blanks.

Tax-Free Bond Rolling

Tax-free Victory bonds forfeit that exemption when they are paid out by a company to its shareholders in the form of dividends. This was the judgment of the supreme court of Canada, Mr. Justice Lamont dissenting, on an appeal taken before it by D. J. Watrous of Brantford. The judgment dismissed the appeal with costs.

FRANCO-U. S. TROUBLE WAS SOON ADJUSTED

London, Eng.—The secret meeting at which Franco-American differences were adjusted provided the most dramatic incident since the inception of the world economic conference. The meeting was held in a private room in a secluded part of conference headquarters.

Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, president of the conference, knew the full import of the meeting. Veterans of innumerable international conferences, he remained alone in an adjoining room, pacing the floor, his hands clenched, back and forth, and forth, he walked, his silvered head bent toward the door, listening for the knock which would mean that the conference was saved or that it had collapsed.

When Mr. MacDonald was informed his face lit up with joy.

At a press interview Cordell Hull, the United States delegation leader, declared that undue emphasis had been placed on temporary currency stabilization and that the United States deems such action now "untimely."

Snow Slide Victim

Find Bodies Of Two Men Lost Since Last February

Field, B.C.—One hand jutting above rock and melting snow had led to discovery of Chris. Dean, 26, and his brother, Joe, 28, lost in Duchesney Pass since last February. The young men, both residents of Banff, Alberta, were trapped in snowdrifts in the pass as they attempted a ski journey from Camp Hector to Field, 30 miles through winding passes. Work parties will leave here to dig the bodies out of the debris.

Discovery of the bodies was made by two Swiss guides, Rudolph Amner and C. Haesler, who were conducting a search of the pass. Searches have been made intermittently since the young men disappeared, a brother Frank, 20, making trips through the area at every opportunity.

Parents of the young men reside at Banff.

Famous Racing Motorist Dead

Sir Henry Birkin Was Victim Of Blood Poisoning

London, Eng.—Despite a desperate battle by doctors, Capt. Sir Henry Birkin, 36, a famous racing motorist, died in a London nursing home from the effects of blood poisoning resulting from burns received in the Tripoli Grand Prix in May.

Sir Henry had been critically ill for three weeks, and three blood transfusions were tried.

He had been one of Great Britain's leading drivers since 1927.

Sir Henry Birkin was born July 26, 1896. He succeeded his father to the baronetcy in 1931. He was created in 1935. He served in the war from 1914 to 1918.

Aids To Navigation

To Install Direction Finding Stations In Hudson Bay Area

Ottawa, Ont.—Paving the way for renewed efforts to reduce insurance rates on the Hudson Bay route, the federal marine department will shortly commence construction of a short wave direction finding station at Chesterfield, on the east shore of the bay, a considerable distance north of Churchill.

Installation of additional navigation lights in the strait will not be undertaken this year. The department has no funds for this purpose and, in addition, further survey work is necessary to determine the precise location of the points at which lights would be erected.

It is necessary to be able to mark all lights on navigation charts with absolute accuracy so that navigators when they see a light may fix their position. Hitherto a detailed hydrographic survey of the north shore of the strait has not been carried out and if lights were built this year only approximate position could be given.

The direction finding station at Chesterfield is deemed the most important contribution to the Bay route that may be made at this time. This station will give cross bearings on the line from Nottingham Island to Churchill. At the present time there are stations at Nottingham and Churchill but bearings are difficult to obtain.

This is the official reaction of the marine department to the annual report of the Imperial Shipping committee on the Hudson Bay route.

Aeroplane Tragedy

Capt. Broatch and Two Mechanics Lost Lives In Air Crash

Prince Albert, Sask.—The first aeroplane tragedy of the year in northern Saskatchewan claimed the lives of three men near the Brooks air base at Emma Lake, 30 miles north of here.

The dead are: Capt. B. W. "Bill" Broatch, pilot, 42. Hiram C. Brooks, pilot-mechanic, 24. T. D. Forsyth, mechanic, 28.

Broatch, well known western commercial flyer, who served with the Royal Navy Air service in France and later with the famous Dover Patrol, was testing a reconditioned Puhl plane at an altitude of 2,000 feet. With him were Brooks and Forsyth, mechanics of the Brooks Airways, Prince Albert.

In the middle of their tests the plane dropped in a spin for some unknown reason and plunged into a bay of the lake just north of the air base, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, after the machine had been put into several spins and loops by the pilot. The plane falling into about 10 feet of water, was smashed to pieces and the engine buried in the bottom of the lake.

The bodies of Broatch and Forsyth were recovered shortly after the crash, while Brooks' body had not been recovered. The lake bottom was being dragged for the third body.

Forsyth, mechanic, was scarcely recognizable when his body was found badly smashed. Brooks was the son of R. D. Brooks, of Prince Albert, president of Brooks Airways.

Lord Montagu Is Fined

Found Guilty Of Common Assault On John Forbes

Victoria, B.C.—Lord Edward Montagu, the second son of the Duke of Manchester, was found guilty of common assault on the person of John Forbes on June 15 and was fined $20 and $7 costs, or, in default, ten days in jail, by Magistrate George Jay in provincial police court here. C. W. Brooks, co-defendant, was found guilty of assault causing grievous bodily harm, and was fined $50 and $7 costs, or, in default, one month in jail. Montagu's fine was paid and he was freed.

Organization Dissolved

Berlin, Germany.—The Steel Helmet Veterans' organization throughout the Rhineland has been dissolved its offices and homes closed, and other property temporarily seized. Review Tariff

Britain Asks Canada To Discuss Duties On Long List Of Articles

London, Eng.—Taking further advantage of the terms of the Canada-Britain trade agreement, signed at Ottawa, the United Kingdom asked Canada to review the Canadian duties on a long list of articles, with a view to revision. The Canadian tariff board is already preparing to review the duties on cotton and textile goods imported from Britain.

The trade pact signed at the Imperial Conference gives each country the right to seek revision in the scale of duties levied by the other on its goods.

Taking Part In Gold Rush

Many Indians Using Sailing Canoes To Reach North

The Pas, Man.—Fleets of sailing canoes, loaded to the gunwales with freight, and manned by Crees, are now drifting ahead of the breezes of the northern lakes, heralding the new summer's gold rush in God's lake.

The purr of the outboard motor is heard right across the hinterland. Even Indians, without the cash to secure outboards, have jumped into the "rush" with canoes, and are swinging paddles, oars and sweeps, as they freight their way into the mineralized zone.

PROPOSAL IS MADE TO REDUCE WHEAT ACREAGE

London, Eng.—The four-power wheat conference adjourned discussions to await statistical information on production from Australia, Argentina, and Soviet Russia after formulating a tentative plan calling for reduced acreage and export quotas.

News of extensive crop damage in Canada and a short crop in the United States caused delegates to believe the final position may be changed materially.

"Stanley" Bruce, Australian minister to the United Kingdom, asked that the conference produce some concrete proposal which he might transmit to Canberra for consideration of his government.

"It was learned the limitation proposal as now constituted contemplates reduction of acreage by 15 per cent, for one year only and that the program for the second year would be decided after the effects of the one-year reduction are seen.

Canada, the United States and Argentina were reported agreed with the Polish stand that small producers must be brought into any scheme if disaster is to be avoided.

The Soviet has not been brought into debate yet but some quarters were inclined to the view no enduring solution of the wheat problem would be possible without participation of Russia despite that country's short crop this season.

Limitation of production by way of reduced acreage and the curtailment of exports by a quota system among the nations are the main lines on which the conference is working, while at the same time urgently pleading for some agreement by importing nations on methods whereby they might raise consumption.

The Daily Telegraph said it was informed the world economic conference will begin immediate discussion of a plan for reducing the world's wheat output by 15 per cent, and absorbing the total carry-over in two years.

Default On Payments Bars New Borrowing

New Rating In United States To Protect Bond Issues

Washington, D.C.—Foreign borrowers, including governments, who default on their obligations to the United States, can borrow no more money within this country by bond issues or other securities, according to the specific terms of the new Federal Securities Act, known as the "blue sky" law.

A clause in the new act, passed by congress, stipulates that if the securities offered in the United States "in order to make a public offering" of securities, which public authority must have "continued the full service" of its obligations in the United States "in order to make a public offering of its securities within the republic."

Some other facts interesting to foreign governments or corporations wishing to sell securities in the republic as set forth in the new law follow:

Truthfulness and adequacy of the information furnished to purchasers of foreign securities under the act are made the direct responsibility of U.S. investment houses floating them.

All data relative to the financial status of the government or foreign corporation for which funds are intended to be raised must be furnished by the agents in the United States to the federal trade commission.

Just as domestic securities, foreign securities must be registered with the federal trade commission.

German Jews Need Help

Opinion Of Man Who Investigated Conditions Created By Nazis

New York.—Michael Williams, who investigated conditions in Germany for the American committee of the rights of religious minorities, said in an address that Nazi opposition to Jews "far exceeds any other persecution known in modern times."

"If the Jews are to be rescued, their position is to be ameliorated in any important degree, it is vital that an international body be set up qualified to speak and act for the Jews of the world."

Cannot Help Manitoba

Federal Minister Of Trade and Commerce Says There Is No Co-Operation

Winnipeg, Man.—"The Dominion Government cannot help Premier Bracken to finance provincial unemployment and other money issues because he will not play the game with us," Hon. H. H. Stevens, Federal Minister of Trade and Commerce, said in an interview here.

"During the past three years," he continued, "the Dominion Government has earnestly tried to co-operate with the four western provinces. In three provinces they have been successful, but in Manitoba no reciprocal co-operation was forthcoming."

"Not once but repeatedly Mr. Bracken has used the unemployment financing issue for political purposes, which makes it difficult for the Dominion Government to assist the province. I do not think Mr. Bracken has made any efforts which he could have made to handle the relief question."

Predicts Stratosphere Flights

New Type Airplanes Will Make This Possible

New York.—Professor Augustus Piccard, arriving from Europe, said that on the strength of his studies during his 10-mile balloon ascension, aeroplanes are being built with airtight steel cabins to make possible flights in the stratosphere.

"These planes should go between 450 and 500 miles an hour," he said. "They will have little resistance because the air at that altitude is so light."

"Once the plane reaches such an altitude the pilot can set the course and return from America to any point in Europe in a few hours."

Piccard will go to Chicago, where he will advise preparations for the stratospheric balloon flight of his twin brother, Jean Piccard, and Commander Settle of the United States navy.

STABILIZATION OF CURRENCY BONE OF CONTENTION

London, Eng.—Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald, chairman of the World Economic Conference, was said to be seeking elimination of the monetary stabilization question which constitutes the bone of bitter contention at the parity.

The French delegation failed to carry out threats of demanding adjournment of the conference until the United States dollar should be stabilized, but the feeling of anxiety over the problem continued intense in conference quarters.

Quarters were clearly disturbed by the solid lining up of many countries, opposed to dollar instability and it was unofficially pointed out in comment that one of the chief points of the Washington program was stabilization as soon as practicable along the lines laid down in the resolution submitted by Senator Key Pittman.

A succession of speakers pleaded for monetary stabilization as essential to restoration of confidence, including representatives of Italy, Switzerland, Poland, Norway, Germany, Rumania and Yugoslavia.

The discussion arose during consideration of a British resolution calling for easy money and cheap credit policies.

The conservative gold standard countries doubted the feasibility of the program and warned of its possible dangers.

RESENTS TARIFF BRITAIN IMPOSES ON FREE STATE

London, Eng.—The Irish Free State quarrel with the United Kingdom arising from the nonpayment of the land annuities was brought before the world economic conference in an attack on the practice of imposing punitive tariffs.

The United Kingdom-Irish Free State tariff war was brought to the notice of the conference by Senator Joseph Connolly, Free State Minister of Lands and Forests, in a blunt speech before the private meeting of the sub-committee on commercial policy.

After dealing with the causes of the quarrel as the Irish Free State saw them, Senator Connolly turned to the "punitive tariff" which Great Britain was imposing against Free State goods.

"You will appreciate," Senator Connolly told the sub-committee, "how foolish it would be for our delegation to go on laboring towards a solution of tariff problems and restoration to normal conditions in the interests of world economic peace without having this unique special punitive tariff policy, which is being applied to one of the weaker countries by one of the great world powers, brought to your notice."

Marine Insurance Rates

Expect Lower Rates May Be Obtained For Bay Route

Ottawa, Ont.—The report of the imperial shipping committee in which it found that the insurance rates on hulls and machinery on ships trading into Churchill could not be reduced this year, but the minimum rate was extended to apply to ships leaving Churchill as late as Oct. 7, instead of the previous limit of Sept. 30, was made public today by the department of marine.

The report appeared to be optimistic that lower rates might prevail in subsequent years if safety of the Hudson Bay route were demonstrated.

The report considered at length the ocean traffic into Churchill during the 1932 season when 10 cargo vessels made the passage through Hudson Straits and into Churchill. Nine made successful voyages and one, the "Bright Fan," was a total loss after striking an iceberg.

Reference was made to the former report in which the committee explained that "as long as there are only a few voyages in the season, a single casualty may quite likely absorb the whole or more than the whole of the money received by way of premium."

Forest Fires In Ontario

Swept Over Fifteen Mile Stretch Near Fort William

Fort William, Ont.—Only partially checked by a sudden shift in the wind, a raging forest fire was defying efforts of 200 rangers and firefighters to quench it. It swept over a 15-mile stretch of cut-over timberlands, near Poland, 85 miles west of here.

Lesser fires are burning at several places in the eastern section of the Thunder Bay district, causing considerable damage, and all available men in the area were drafted to fight them.

A Canadian National Railways bridge was destroyed near Hornepayne, temporarily cutting off communication between Long Lac and Fort Arthur.

Brighter Outlook

Twenty Thousand Men Added To Industries In The East

Winnipeg, Man.—Saying that in May alone 20,000 men had been added to industries in the east and that in his trip through the west he had found hundreds of new men employed in mining, lumbering and manufacturing, Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, said trade and commerce in the Dominion was encouraging. "Transportation is decidedly brighter," he said. "Carloading and passenger transportation both show marked improvement. Cattle are moving well and 40,000 head will be shipped to Britain this season."

Was Friend To Animals

New York.—The animals would be sad if they could understand. Harry Daniel Moran, head of the Humane Society of New York, who spent 10 years helping suffering beasts, is dead.

DISTINGUISHED FIGURES IN WORLD CONFERENCE

Milt Ray, local district drummer for the Swift Canadian Co. Ltd., is on his annual vacation, and is being relieved on the territory this week by Mr. A. Shaw, of Edmonton.

The relief agreement between the province and the federal government is renewed to the end of the year, according to an announcement by Premier Brownlee, who returned last week from Ottawa.

The marriage of Miss Leona Martin, R.N., of Calgary, to Mr. Walter Lord, senior, took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Pergus-on on Saturday last, Rev. A. E.
Larke officiating. Following the ceremony, a reception was held.

An attempt to eradicate, excommunicate or unseat Councillor Per-reassini from committee positions of the town council was unsuccessful.
Councillor Perreassini continues to serve the ratepayers as a councillor, and refused to lower himself to the mayor's chair.
